IFAA MISSION

The Iowa Foundation for Agricultural Advancement (IFAA) is a non-profit organization of agriculture enthusiasts dedicated to providing scholarships, financial awards and incentives for college-bound Iowa (4-H and FFA) youth seeking a post-secondary education in the areas of agriculture.

A key means of providing this support has been through partnerships with FFA and 4-H. Each year, thousands of Iowa students participate in 4-H and FFA beef, swine, sheep, poultry and other agricultural projects. IFAA's role is to provide scholarships and other financial awards to college-bound Iowa youth with agricultural interests.

IFAA's primary programs are the Sale of Champions, which is done in conjunction with the annual Iowa State Fair, and the Winner's Circle Scholarship and Awards programs. The Sale of Champions program gives 16 FFA and 4-H exhibitors the privilege to sell their champion livestock and poultry projects. The Winner's Circle Scholarship and Awards program was established in 1990 to provide incentives for college-bound Iowa youth seeking a post-secondary education in the area of agriculture.

Our Story

For as long as the Iowa State Fair has been in existence, youth from around the state have exhibited their livestock projects with pride at the Iowa State Fairgrounds in search of a purple banner. Until the late 1980s, the kids who earned the right to be called Grand Champion were often rewarded with less than market price for their animals. In 1987 at the conclusion of another dismal sale of the champion animals, a group of livestock industry members decided a change was in order to not only reward the hard work of the grand champion projects but to provide more incentive for others to participate in raising livestock projects. In 1988, the Iowa Foundation for Agricultural Advancement was born.

The original mission was simply to provide a base level of funds to support the sale of grand and reserve champion projects for the major species at a premium. After years of success growing the Sale of Champions into the envy of many state fairs around the country, IFAA expanded giving to include scholarship programs and performance awards in order to reach more youth.

Today, the IFAA offers over $200,000 per year in scholarships funded by groups such as the Governor of Iowa, Bruce Rastetter, Sinclair Tractor, Cargill, Rain and Hail Insurance, HyVee, Fareway, and ISF Beef Champion Supporters to name a few. Support for the IFAA Sale of Champions and subsequent scholarship and awards programs has steadily grown from $50,000 in the first year to nearly over $900,000 today.

“My family is humbled and thankful for the support that the IFAA offers to youth in agriculture. We’ve had the opportunity to earn a spot in the Sale of Champions, benefiting from the sale and breaking a record not once, but twice. My sisters and I have also been recipients of IFAA scholarships. Three out of four Marek girls pursued a degree in agriculture and were benefactors of IFAA scholarships. The IFAA has positively affected me and each of my sisters in various ways. We are forever grateful for the businesses and individuals who support this organization, as it truly has made a substantial impact on our future and supported our paths to joining the agriculture industry.”

FARMLAND

Through the Community Foundation, farmland can be sold or retained to benefit the causes you care about. Avoid capital gains tax and realize a deduction on the fair market value of the land.

2

Contributing assets to a charitable remainder trust can create an income in retirement for you and your spouse, while benefiting causes you care about after your lifetime.

3

GRAIN

Making a gift of grain allows you to support the organizations and communities that mean the most to you, while enjoying the tax advantages of not claiming the sale of grain as income.

4

FARM EQUIPMENT

Donating depreciated farm equipment allows for avoiding recapturing the sale proceeds as ordinary income.

5

LIFE ESTATE

Gift your residence or farmland now, but retain its use and the rental income for your lifetime. You create a future gift to charity, continue to benefit from the asset and receive a partial tax deduction now.
